

Official Summer Sailstice Sail Pass

Please excuse _____ for observance of the annual Summer Sailstice holiday. As a practicing sailor who has long observed the act of sailing on the solstice weekend, as part of a cultural heritage involving the ritual bonding of family and friends to their sailing forebears, the person named above is entitled to a full day off work, annually, for a three-day summer solstice sailing weekend.

This holiday is recognized throughout the world, as a traditional event for building connections among sailors, and uniting the world in a common celebration of sailing. Out of respect for the dedicated sailing efforts on behalf of the sailing community made by the note bearer, the sailor named above shall receive their official say of sailing observance without fear of pay cuts, job loss, or recrimination. The bearer will instead be held in the highest esteem for their sincere commitment to their sailing culture and heritage.

Should any question arise regarding the validity of this document and its earnest value as a wholesome reprieve from life ashore, the questioner can find the answers required by sailing on the annual, global Summer Sailstice celebration weekend.
